Compromise Ends Fishermen's Strike

The differences between the Southeastern Alaska Fishermen's Association and the cannerymen were effectively settled by compromise late last week and since the settlement fishing crews have been rapidly organized and put on the grounds. Coupled with the settlement of the strike and renewal of fishing has come a greater run of fish and both cannerymen and fishermen will try to make up for some of the loss caused by the strike. The compromise prices are essentially fifty per cent higher than last year.

Spokane Due Sunday

The Alaska Cruise steamer according to schedule sailed from Seattle for the fourth Alaska cruise at 9 o'clock last night and as she is to call in Wrangell northbound should reach Wrangell Sunday.

Columbia & Northern Making Improvements

Putting building in shape for cold-storage equipment. Wharf "T" lengthened.

After a very successful season of Stikine Flats fishing, in which the value of Wrangell as the location for a cold-storage and mild-curing establishment was fully demonstrated, the Columbia & Northern Fishing & Packing Company have commenced extensive improvements on the old Fort Wrangell Brewery building necessary to convert it into a first-class cold-storage and mild curing plant. The entire building has been reshingled, double walls are to be built, tight floors laid and an elevator installed.

The "T" of the wharf has been lengthened twenty feet on the east making more room for handling fish.

Another branch of the industry is being formed by the purchase of the hull of the Telegraph which will be remodeled fitted out for seining and operated by the firm.

Morning Prayer 8:30 A. M.
Holy Communion at 11 A. M.

Kahoe Proving to Be Good Scout.
Mike Kahoe never was rated as a star catcher. Nevertheless he is making good as a scout for the Washington baseball club. He discovered Ainsworth and Henry, who are catching good ball for the Nationals; Second Baseman Morgan, Outfielder Walker, now a sub and Pitcher Cashlon, besides placing his O. K. on Foster and Moeller, who were procured from Rochester, both previously having had big league trials. Further back, Kahoe got Catcher Block, now the first catcher of the White Sox, and Pitcher Dixie Walker for Washington. Block was turned back, and Walker has been sent to the minors because he failed to keep in condition. Pitcher Musser and Outfielder Shanks of the Nationals were discovered by McAteer.

Sharpe to Coach Cornell Mine.
Dr. Albert H. Sharpe of Philadelphia, athletic director at the Pennsylvania Charter school and former Yale star athlete, will coach two major teams and one minor team at Cornell next year. It was announced that he had been engaged to coach next year's baseball team, succeeding Danny Conzen, who has signed a contract with Columbia. Last winter Sharpe signed a three-year contract to coach the Cornell football team for three years, and he has also been engaged to coach the basketball team next year.

Made Fire

For Tourists

By making fire "old time way" by friction of a whirling cedar stick, Tom Kananasty amused a part of the Spokane tourists last Friday at the Red Men's Hall. The performance was entirely successful, the fire kindling in short order considering the method used.

Secures Ferro Agency

Katzenmeyer and Gingsass, proprietors of the Wrangell Machine Shop, announce they have secured for the firm the agency for the Ferro marine motor and will push the sale of that popular engine in this territory. An eight horse complete machine has been received and mounted in the shop for demonstration. To the Sentinel man who watched the machine run, it looks looks good and has distinctive features that will make it a competitor for favor among boatmen.

The Laughing Owl.

One of the most fantastic of birds is the laughing owl of Florida and some other southern parts. He sits well up in a tree at night and emits a series of loud, strange ha-ha's that sound like half human laughter. The sound is sufficiently terrifying to a nervous camper unacquainted with the habit of the bird.

Norway's Long Day.

Summer time brings more than two months of continuous daylight at Wardburg, Norway. In the "Land of the Midnight Sun." That little village near the North cape has the longest day of any civilized community in the world, extending from May 21 to July 22, during which period the sun is at all times visible except when obscured by clouds.

ROBERT W. JENNINGS

OF JUNEAU

Nominated by the Democrats as Candidate for De'legate From Alaska

REPUBLICANS—SOCIALISTS

ATTITUDE TOWARDS CORPORATIONS.

Let us say to those large aggregations of capital, 'Come into our midst; build railroads, operate steamship lines, start canneries, open the mines of coal and copper and gold, give employment to as many of our people as possible, and all the legitimate fruits of your energy, your daring, your enterprise shall be yours; without let or hindrance. We do not hate you; we want you to come; we want you to succeed; we will help you to succeed, if you do not succeed. We realize that Alaska cannot be developed without the aid of capital. The poor man cannot build a railroad, nor operate a steamship line, nor open a coal mine, establish a cannery, and, yet, without these things, trade languishes, development is impossible, enterprise halts on the very threshold and there is no employment for our people; and if our people have no employment they cannot pay the butcher, the baker, the merchant; business houses fail, stagnation ensues and the pall of depression hangs over the land.

But let us, also, and at the same time, say to them: You must not interfere with the cause of justice; you must not seek to own the courts, to corrupt juries, to buy or intimidate witnesses; you must keep your hands off the hem of the garment of the white robed figure of justice, for you are no better before the law than the poorest citizen or the most insignificant of your employees, and

You must not seek to own Legislatures, or Congresses or Municipal Councils; to the end that they may confer upon you special privileges and advantages not enjoyed by others or that you may influence legislation to your advantage. Your business is not the making of laws; and

You must pay your just proportion of the taxes which go the support of this Commonwealth.

Let us say to them, 'If you come to build up, develop, to act within the law, to do the right thing and the fair thing and the square thing, you are as welcome as the flowers of May, but if you come with the intention to loot, to destroy, to corrupt, to evade just obligations, the hand of every honest man will be clenched to drive you from our midst.'

Let us encourage capital to come to Alaska; let us be just and fair and even liberal to it; but let us be watchful that it be not given the power or opportunity to oppress our people."

HUMOROUS QUIPS

The Doubtful Truth,

We sat together for awhile,
And she was fair as any rose,
And there was sunshine in her smile,
And perfect was her Grecian nose.

She said that she was very glad
To get a chance to talk to me,
And then she wondered if I had
Read Dickens' English history.

She talked of Edgar Allen Poe,
For Milton's work she didn't care,
But she was fond of Shakespeare, though,
And then my dear wife found us there.

Oh, she was fair as any rose,
Which is the reason gentle Mary
Still doubts my story, I suppose.
That all our talk was literary.

—Detroit Free Press.

The Revenge of a Tramp.

It was a cold and snowy day, as cold as charity, which, it may be mentioned, is going some in the line of real freezing weather. Weary Willie presented himself at the farmhouse door and humbly requested the sharp faced woman to provide him with enough food to sustain within him the spark of life. He explained that, while this spark was not especially useful at that time, he had ambitions and expected to fan it into a flame of industry which would fully justify any kindness on her part.

The farmer's wife was not at all impressed with Willie's plea and emitted a long, shrill denunciation of any man who was unwilling to hurl himself out of bed at 4 o'clock in the morning and work feverishly until 9 o'clock at night, capping off the day's recreation by finding the cat and giving her a saucer of milk. Finally, however, she indignantly thrust Willie an uninviting looking hunk of mince pie. Willie failed to catch it, and it struck the snow so heavily that it stirred up a cloud of feathery flakes. Willie fished it out and disappeared.

The next day he returned and said to the sharp faced woman in a tone of great respect:

"Would you be kind enough to give me the recipe for the mince pie I got here yesterday?"

"The idea!" said the woman and launched into a terrific howl against Willie's impudence.

"Well," explained the tramp, "I just wanted to settle a bet. My partner says you used three cups of portland cement to one of molasses, but I claim it's only two and a half."—Popular Magazine.

SNAPSHOTS AT CELEBRITIES

E. T. Stotesbury, Who May Be Ambassador to England.

E. T. Stotesbury, who rumor has it will represent the United States at the court of St. James if President Taft is reelected, is the Philadelphia partner of J. P. Morgan. Whitelaw Reid, who has been ambassador since 1905, desires to return to America and resume active control of the New York Tribune.

Mr. Stotesbury is a native of Philadelphia, sixty-three years of age, and when only seventeen entered the employ of the banking firm of Drexel & Co. In 1882 he was admitted to partnership, and from that time his advancement was rapid. He became connected with the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. in New York and also with Morgan, Harjes & Co. in Paris. He is a confidential friend and associate of Mr. Morgan. Mrs. Stotesbury, who before her marriage to Mr. Stotesbury last January was the widow of Oliver Eaton Cromwell of New York, has been a familiar figure in diplomatic circles and is anxious for her husband to take a post abroad. She was presented at the English court the past season. At the time of the marriage last winter Mr. Stotesbury gave his bride a wedding gift of $4,000,000.

Bottles.

Ancient bottles of glass, stone and metal have been found in many parts of Europe, Asia and Africa. Perfume bottles of glass have been discovered in great numbers in the tombs of wealthy ladies of Egypt. Many bottles, tumblers and other drinking vessels have been dug from the ruins of Pompeii. The most common bottle of the ancients, however, was of leather, the skin of a calf, goat or ox being taken off the carcass with as few cuts as possible and made into a receptacle for holding water or wine. The largest glass bottle ever blown was made at Leith, in Scotland, in 1717-18. Its capacity was two horseheads.

TRUTH.

Nothing but truth is ever ultimately victorious. Nothing but life ever finally prevails. Nothing but God emerges in the end from the backward and forward swing of the pendulum and the breaking of the waves that mark the tide upon the rocks of human ignorance and weakness and folly. The swing of the uncounted centuries behind it all moves upward unto life.—W. H. Pulsford.

This is the open season for the summer vacation school.

She Knew Better.

"But, madam," says the architect, "it is utterly impossible to build the house the way you want it planned. The rooms you specify will occupy 2,000 square feet more of floor space than is contained in the total dimensions of the lot on which the house is to be built."

"Nonsense," says the woman. "How is it, then, that my dressmaker is able to give me a twenty-two inch waist line when I really measure thirty?"—Chicago Post.

How the Condor is Caught.

Many birds cannot fly straight up. They must rise at a very gentle incline. They must get upward motion before their wings can get full effect of the air. It is said that the mode of taking the condor is to build a pen, say, forty or fifty feet in diameter and six feet high and put a carcass in the middle of it. The condor alights, but cannot again rise at an angle which will take him over the fence. Many heavy bodied, short winged ducks rise from the water at so small an angle that they must use both feet and wings for thirty or forty feet in order to get upward motion enough to give effectiveness to their wings by coming in contact with larger masses of still air.

Javelle Water.

One pound washing soda, one quart boiling water, half a pound chloride of lime, two quarts cold water. Put the soda into an agate pan and add the boiling water. Dissolve the lime in the cold water. Let the mixture settle and pour the clear liquid into the dissolved soda. Bottle and keep in a dark place. Javelle water forms a very efficient liquid for unbleached fabrics, as well as for cotton goods that have become yellow with dirt and age. Articles washed in this have a strong odor of the chloride of lime, and the final washing in water, to which ammonia has been added, will help to destroy this odor. Use one tablespoonful of ammonia and two quarts of water. Javelle removes all stains and all colors and therefore should not be used on colored goods. Javelle cannot be used on white woollens. Borax is the only bleach to be used here.

Raspberry Tapioca.

Cover one cup of pearl tapioca with cold water, let stand all night, and in the morning put it in your double boiler; then add one pint of boiling water and let it cook till clear. Then add the juice of one lemon, half a cup of sugar and one pint bowl of raspberries. Pour into a mold and set on ice to get good and cold. When ready to serve unmold and garnish dish with tiny mounds of raspberries and one large tablespoonful of whipped cream flavored with lemon extract.

Apple Indian Pudding.

Pare and slice five or six tart apples, place in pudding dish. Take three tablespoonfuls of Indian meal, three quarters of a cupful of molasses, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, cinnamon and salt; add to three pints of scalding hot milk, pour all over apples, and just before putting in the oven pour over all a cup of cold milk. Bake two hours in quite hot oven. Serve with either plain or whipped cream.

Boiled Mustard Sauce.

One small cupful of cider vinegar, one-half cupful of white sugar, table spoonful mustard, heaping teaspoonful cornstarch, one egg, little salt, butter size of an egg. Put the vinegar and butter on to boil, beat up the rest and add to the boiling vinegar, stirring constantly to prevent burning till it thickens. Bottle and keep in a cool place. This is much like salad dressing.

Plum Whip.

Cut blue plums in halves, stew in syrup until tender, drain and rub through a coarse sieve enough of the pulp to make one cup. Beat the whites of four eggs to a standing froth, add the plum pulp gradually and beat for twenty minutes. Serve with a custard sauce flavored with vanilla.

Removing Mud Stains.

A simple and excellent way to remove dirty marks from a macintosh is to cut a raw potato in slices and rub it well on the marks. It will also remove mud stains from dress skirts, children's coats and gentlemen's trousers.

WHY? Blend Flour

STRAIGHT Eastern Hard Wheat flour has its use. So has straight Soft Wheat flour. But to get results from the hard wheat flour, it must be thoroughly kneaded. The housewife finds this too burdensome. Furthermore, we're living in a labor-saving age. Yet, Eastern Hard Wheat flour has desirable qualities that cannot be overlooked in the production of the best breadstuff. Bakers realize this, for invariably they combine flour themselves, made of Eastern Hard Wheat and Western Soft Wheat—that is to say: Blend Flour. But the two must not be mixed haphazardly, as the superiority of combination depends wholly on a proper balance. Before offering the public their product, the FISHER FLOURING MILLS COMPANY made exhaustive tests to determine the exact proportions of each flour required to produce the blend of highest efficiency. The formula finally adopted, after painstaking competition with all other well-known brands on the market today, has repeatedly demonstrated its excellence. You get this scientific combination in buying
